"SPORTS OF THE TIMES"-DISPATCH

ADMIRERS CHEER THE GREAT JOHN L.

Former Champion, Looking Better Than for Years, Scores With Monologue.

STILL BOX A BIT

In Friendly Bout With Kid Sutler Shows Flashes of Once Invincible Form, PHILADELPHIA, January 29.-Preceded by a fervid speech, in which Manager Frank Hall extelled his greatness, past and present, and accom panied by a fanfare from the orchetra, John L. Sullivan made his reappearance in Philadelphia yesterday at the Lyceum Theatre.

James J. Jeffries, Bob Fitzsimmons and James J. Corbett on the same stage couldn't have hoped for the reception the big fellow got. The au-dience applauded and shouted, and one enthissast down-stairs yelled for three cheers. three cheers.

It was a most amazing demonstra-tion of a popularity that nothing seems to atter.

Looks Better Than Ever.
This John L. arrayed in evening othes, around his twenty-four-inch ck, a flaring collar with points that y beside his chin, his arching chest yered with white linen, his feet in ultiess pumps, is the best-looking illivan Philadelphia has seen since his dayn days.

Sullivan Philadelphia has seen since his painy days.

The attack of typhoid that brought him to death's door a few years ago proved a blessing in disguise, for it enabled Billy Muldoon to take hold of the former champion, build him a new stomach and put him in shape again. This good sart, aided by two years of correct living, has made a new man of the Rostonian.

the Bostonian.
His cheeks are now as pink as aby's, his eyes are clear and his step princy and athletic.

springy and athlette.
Only his snow-white hair and protruding corporation miliated against an athletic appearance, and yet he bears even that ponderous projection gracefully, though, as he told his cheering audience, "If he could have as much fun taking it off as he had putting it on, the big stomach would go in short order."

Has Good Irish Dialect.

In the course of his monologue, John L. said many other good things. He was cheered when he told the crowd that there are more bank presidents and brokers in jail than prize fighters. He also made a hit with a bunch of Irish dialect stories, in which his Irish parentage enabled him to get an excellent browne.

brogue.

Sullivan's monologue is really excellent. He speaks rapidly and distinetly, his great voice making itself heard all the way out into the corri-therein, his great voice maning itsenheard all the way out into the corridors.

As a wind-up for the show, he boxed
three rounds with a finely-built youngster, "Kld" Cutier.

The chance to see the greatest fighter of a generation ago with the gloves on was relished by the younger element of the crowd, and the old fellows were equally happy to see that the beau ideal hero of their youth could sail get around a bit.
Despite his stomach, and even in a friendly bout, the qualities that made John L. great can be seen. He punches straight and hard and very fast. When he landed with his right the left was right after, a demonstration of the theory he used in his best fights, that if you can reach a man with one hand,
you ought to be able to get to him
with the other.

Cutler is big and strong, and looks

A number of Suilivan's old friends, including Arthur Chambers, a champion of other days, dropped in to see him
during the afternoon.

shoes and resemble the runners of a sled.

In a competition the contestants start down a steep hill at full speed. In the middle of the hill a projecting ledge of snow is formed, the upper part of which has less slope than the hill itself; in fact, at its edge it is almost horizontal. From there there is a sudden drop of about ten feet, beyond which the hill continues at a steepingle for about a quarter of a mile It is taking this drop that is most dangerous. When a competitor leaves this ledge he shoots up in the air to a height of nearly fifty feet, from which he descenas like a meteor. Should he not land squarely on his skis, a serious accident is the probable result.

At all places where ski-jumping meets are held physicians are in attendance. In Norway all contestants in the more than twenty-six years old, and before any one is allowed, to compete he must be examined by a physician, who will pass upon the content of the proposition of nervousness his entry is refused.

GIRL OF EIGHTEEN JOCKEY MARTIN CHAMPION BOWLER HAS CLOSE C

as She Is Able in a Bowling

ST. LOUIS, MO., January 29.—The best woman bowler in all the world is the claim that this city makes for one of its residents. The distinction belongs to Miss Birdle Kern, eighteen years old. Her father is Martin Kern, himself a winner of the men's national championship. Miss Kern is a typical American girl, fond of all forms of outdoor sports. She is accomplished in the ways of society and is as graceful in a drawing-room as she is formidable in a bowling-alley.

As Graceful in a Drawing-Room 200 are so common to her that she thinks nothing of them. Able and charming as she is, there is one among the women as she is, there is one among the women bowlers who is fast forging to the front as a rival of Miss Kern. She is Mrs. John Rosskopf, of Cincinnati, and a contest between the two is expected to be a feature of the national tournament to be held here next month. Mrs. Rosskopf has made as high a score us 226, but her average is around 150.

If the championship for women is to be decided Miss Kern's father says a suitable stake must be put up. Mrs. Rosskopf says she would rather bowl for fun. "Not on your life," says Miss Kern. The National Bowling Congress officials have taken a hand in the affair, and say they will arrange in some way Miss Kern has averaged more than 175 and say they will arrange in some way in ten games recently, and scores of to bring off the contest.

Ole Feiring, of Duluth, Record-Holder, Covered 112 Feet at a Single Jump.

Ski jumping bids fair to become one of the most popular of winter recreations. More persons have taken to this sport this winter than ever before in the colder parts of the country.

Ole Feiring, of Duluth, is the American champion at this game. He won this title last week in his home town by a flying leap of 112 feet. For several years Gustave Bye, also of Duluth, held this record. His best jumping is one of the most spectacular of sports. It is also a daring feat, and for a person to compete in a ski jumping contest he must not only be possessed of great suppleness but must also have an abundance of courage, for without either it would be as dangerous as is high diving.

Ski jumping is a Norwegian sport. The skis are about a yard long, slightly turned up in the front. They are made of wood and are fastened to the wearer's shoes and resemble the runners of a sled. Middies' Big Rowing Squad.

Work on the machines will begin to-morrow on the machines will begin to-morrow on the river as soon as conditions permit. Coach Richard Glendon, of Boston, will reach Annapolis about February 1st. Five of last season's regulars will again try for the crew. They are Captain Ingram, stroke; Leighton, No. 4; Pritchard, bow.

Those who have left are Bradley, No. 5; Dreutzer, No. 3, and Gary, No. 2. In addition to those named, Davis, who rowed in several races last season, is still in the Academy, as are most of the members of the second and third crews.

The new material is unusually strong and there is little doubt that Glendon will again turn out a winning crew. The midshipmen will row Yale, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Georgetown, and possibly Cornell.

THE CALL OF THE SCORE

The days may be dark, and the rain sift down, In a smother that darkens the air, The sun may hide, and the skies may frown, And the world seem a jumble of care;

But it won't last for aye, a plague on it all, Let's sing to the news of the score, The rap of the bat, as it smacks on the ball, And the din of the bleachers' roar.

The snow may drive, and the wind may scold,
As it shricks, land bound, from the sea,
The fee king fetter each pond and creek,
That struggles in ruge to be free;
But there'll come a day with the glad spring call,
The call that is born of the score,
The rup of the bat, as it smacks on the ball,
And the din of the bleachers' roar,

And yesterday a five-ton sight-seeing car, with the recently perfected fron tire pneumatic wheel, took a party over the roughest portions of the city streets with the joiling so prevalent in these cumbersome cars reduced to a minimum. Only a sixty-pound air pressure was used in the tube.

A fifty-norse power touring car, equipped with the same principle wheel, was also run at high speed over rough portions of the roadway, and to those in the tonneau practically no difference could be detected between the running qualities of the new tire and the pneumatic. The bouncing effect, so noticeable with the latter, was scarcely evident, the car riding somewhat in the manner of one equipped with shock absorbers.

The principle of the invention is that of a wheel bull within a wheel, with a cof a wheel bull with a wheel with a wheel spokes being employed to keep the two wheels in the same vertical plane. The inner wheel includes the hub, which is mounted on the nute of a wheel bull with a cannot puncture.

The first demonstration of the whee invented web-shaped spokes, of which there are twenty-four in the wheel, has a tensile strength capable of holding at least eight thousand pounds.

One of the most remarkable features in the new wheel will be the wood tread. This will be made of rock maple, packed in a steel fiange, and will be only about one-third as heavy as rubber. It will be noiseless, as wood is a non-conductor of sound, and, it is claimed, will outwear steel. For racing purposes the car equipped with this style of wheel would not be hampered by skidding, and even in case one of the pneumatic tubes became deflated the car could be run on the other three, for the outer circumference of the wheel would always remain the same.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., January 29.—
There was a dramatic scene in the Second Recorder's Court to-day, when Peter Maher, of Philadelphia, formerly champlon Irish puglilst, who has been in the city several weeks, pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery on his mother-in-law. Mrs. Turp. Judge Marmauget, after hearing the case, fined Maher $10. Maher several days ago created a stir. He was arrested one night, charged with having slurged his mother-in-law. Maher denied the charge at the time, and said that during a family argument he had laid his hand on his mother-in-law's shoulder, and that she had stumbled and fallen to the floor. To-day Maher decided to plead guilty, despite his former explanations.
